

Preventive Care & the Marketplace: What's Covered?

All Marketplace health plans must cover a set of preventive services, like shots and screening tests, at no additional cost to you. This is true even if you haven't met your yearly deductible.

Preventive services can prevent or detect illness at an early stage, when treatment is likely to work best. Generally, these services are available at no additional cost only when you get them from a doctor or other provider in your plan's network.

Here are some common services:

All adults

- Blood pressure screenings
- Cholesterol screenings: Certain ages + those at high risk
- Depression screenings
- Immunizations
- Obesity screenings and counseling
- Tobacco use screenings and interventions

Visit HealthCare.gov/preventive-care-adults for the full list.

Women

- Breast cancer mammography screenings
- Cervical cancer screenings
- Domestic and interpersonal violence screenings and counseling
- Well-woman visits

Pregnant or may become pregnant

- Breastfeeding supplies, support, and counseling
- Birth control
- Folic acid supplements
- Gestational diabetes screenings: At 24 weeks (or later) + those at high risk
- Hepatitis B screenings
- Maternal depression screenings at well-baby visits
